The Day the River Rose

Read both accounts of the same event in the town of Millbrook.

Account 1: Sofia's Journal

Saturday, April 12

It rained for three whole days, and this morning I woke up to sirens. When I looked out my window, our street had turned into a brown river. The water was almost up to our mailbox! Dad carried our photo albums and the TV upstairs while Mom packed snacks and blankets. My heart was pounding the whole time.

Around noon, I saw firefighters paddle a little orange boat right down our street. They helped Mr. Okafor and his dog climb in from his porch. Later, our neighbors gathered on the dry part of the hill and shared hot soup. By evening, the water finally started to go down. I will never forget the sound of the rain drumming on our roof all night long.

Account 2: Newspaper Article

Millbrook River Floods After Heavy Rain

The Millbrook Gazette, April 13

The Millbrook River overflowed its banks on Saturday after more than five inches of rain fell in three days. About forty homes on the east side of town were flooded.

Fire Chief Dana Ruiz said rescue crews used two boats to help twenty-three residents leave their homes. No injuries were reported. The river reached its highest point at about 4 p.m., nearly three feet above flood level. A shelter was opened at Millbrook Middle School for families who could not return home. Volunteers are invited to help with cleanup on Monday morning.
